Web Developer

November 2015 – Present

Launchfire Interactive, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

- Transformed many designs into fully functional promotional websites viewed by millions with a high emphasis on sleek and modern animations.
- Was integral to the early lifecycle stage of the company's latest major products, primarily leading the Front End framework decisions, enforcing a style guide and writing initial Behat tests.
- Was an integral part of a team building a training tool for a large banking company, to be used by both internal employees and customers.

Webmaster

January 2015 – November 2015

Vinci Education, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

- Sole developer for all website modifications and additions, including large SPA (single page app) pages and extensive backend coding in ASP.NET and Java with Apache OfBiz.
- Responsible for managing all internal and cloud servers, hosting a myriad of services such as SVN, Unity Asset Servers, Learning Management Systems, Resource Spaces, LDAP and multiple public websites.
- Personally handled the migration of several large, locally hosted, Linux servers to Amazon EC2 instances, as well as all configuration and further management over time.
- In charge of all employee desktop machines and network hardware. Duties included troubleshooting issues, setting up new workstations and monitoring the rack-mounted switch-boxes and router.

Freelance Web Developer
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

July 2014 – December 2015

- Worked on multiple recurring contracts from IRIS, a software solutions company focused on the accountancy market. Contracts were often given several at a time, however I still maintained early due date delivery.
- Converted design wireframes to fully functional websites, often in a matter of hours, while maintaining internal framework and IE 6 compatibility. At the time of writing, fifty of such websites have been completed.
- Additionally, took the extra free time to regularly code for a small indie online multiplayer game with an active population of around five hundred players.

Web Developer
Boast Technologies, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

February 2013 – July 2014

- Developed responsive websites utilising modern CSS 3 & HTML 5 as well as AJAX with JQuery.
- Assisted with back-end development using PHP with the MVC framework CakePHP and MySQL.
- Created and modified many Wordpress sites for businesses.
- Set up and maintained multiple sites using SSH, knowledge of Linux command line, Cpanel, WHM and phpMyAdmin.
- Managed projects in a team environment to meet rapid deadlines.
- Principal developer for a large business ecommerce website that is expected to reach thousands of concurrent users.

Freelance Web Developer
Stevenage, Hertfordshire, England

July 2010 – December 2011

- Primarily focused on front-end coding of small hobbyist sites as well as the initial development for a start-up web hosting company.
- Designed logos and website templates using Photoshop.
